

Plan 170 Maestro-Esp.de Lengua Extranjera

Asignatura 15447 MORFOSINTAXIS Y SEMANTICA INGLESA I

Grupo 1

Presentación

Estructura de la Lengua. Gramática. Semántica. Léxico.

Programa Básico

Objetivos

At the end of this semester the students should be able to 1. Understand and make proper use of the making and working of the simple sentence in English. 2. Analyse syntactically and morphologically the different elements integrating an intermediate-level English text. 3. Organise and create written specific texts in English at an intermediate/upper-intermediate level.

Programa de Teoría

Programa Práctico

Basing on the previous linguistic concepts the subject will be organised in three different parts:

Two of them will focus on syntax and morphology: a theoretical study of the linguistic aspects will be taken on, and will later be translated to:

1. the practical use of English
2. the practical linguistic analysis of simple sentences

The third part will consist in the writing of essays where the grammatical aspect studied should be properly used.

Evaluación

LIBRO DE TEXTO:

SWAN, M. & c. WALTER. How English Works. A Grammar and Practice Book. OUP. 1997.

Bibliografía

True